Organ
Spectacular

A Family Event! Come hear Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf", a musical tale for children.

On October 19, 2003, an "Organ Spectacular" will be held in more than 250 cities around the world to showcase the organ and to celebrate the "International Year of the Organ," which will continue through June 2009, and feature a multitude of activities ranging from organ concerts to organbuilding workshops.

The organ dates back some 2,000 years to ancient Egypt, making it the world's oldest keyboard instrument. It has had a colorful history, with many contributions to our culture. Today, it continues to enchant both young and old. The International Year of the Organ is an opportunity to introduce this amazing instrument.

| Interim Organist Westminster Presbyterian Church 3722 Belfort Road, Jacksonville, FL 32216 • Phone 904-737-5133 Our organist of 16 years has recently departed our congregation because of family responsibilities. We are in need of an interim organist, a position that might be extended. We have two Sunday services: morning worship at 10:45, which is in a traditional style with a two-manual organ, and evening worship at 6:00 with piano. At this time we have several talented young women who are willing to play the piano for the evening service, if necessary. We have no choir at this time, and very seldom do any special music, but have several interested congregation members. In addition, there are several in the congregation who are studying violin. We hope eventually to include more strings in the worship services, given that someone can arrange. We are a conservative congregation with a formal worship style and hope to continue our tradition of strong hymn singing. We use the Trinity Hymnal of the Presbyterian Church of America, and several have studied the musical style of the Reformed University Ministries. We have a great appreciation for the Reformed Faith of historic Presbyterianism. Our worship is God-centered, rich in Scripture content, and not entertainment oriented. We practice the regulative principle of worship, desiring to include only that which God's Word commands. A growing relationship with Christ Jesus is essential to participate in the worship. It is joyous and soul-satisfying. Salary is negotiable, commensurate with experience. Please reply to Steve Jennings at email jsmjenn@yahoo.com. | |
